INTRODUCTION

This course is for the effective leadership of health and safety. It is designed for use by all directors, governors, trustees, officers and their equivalents in the private, public and third sectors. It applies to organisations of all sizes.

Protecting the health and safety of employees or members of the public who may be affected by your activities is an essential part of risk management and must be led by the board.

Failure to include health and safety as a key business risk in board decisions can have catastrophic results. Many high-profile safety cases over the years have been rooted in failures of leadership.

Health and safety law places duties on organisations and employers, and directors can be personally liable when these duties are breached: members of the board have both collective and individual responsibility for health and safety.

This course will help your organisation find the best ways to lead and promote health and safety, and therefore meet its legal obligations.

OBJECTIVE

At the end of the session, the participant will be able to:

- Identify the requirement for leaders.
- Identify tools and activities for leading Health and Safety at work
- Identify leadership PDCA cycle
- Identify legal requirement as well as Health and Safety performance

PARTICIPANTS

Directors, governors, trustees, officers and their equivalents in the private, public and third sectors.
